The Center for Clinical and Translational Science and Training (CCTST) and Cincinnati Children’s Ethics Center invite you to participate in the conference Ethics of Integrating Research and Clinical Care, March 23-24, 2017 at Cincinnati Children's. Submissions of abstracts for podium and poster presentations are encouraged from all medical specialties (pediatric and adult) and disciplines (humanities, social sciences, law) and will be selected via a peer-review process.

Theme

This conference will feature empirical and normative investigation into ethical aspects of integrating research and clinical care. Featured speakers include Scott Kim, MD, PhD, NIH Dept. of Bioethics; Andrew Mulberg, MD, Amicus Therapeutics; and Kevin Weinfurt, PhD, Duke University School of Medicine.

We invite the submission of a wide variety of abstracts focusing on all aspects of the intersection of research and clinical care, including:

- Emerging study methodologies
- Advances in technology
- Evaluating risk: theoretical as well as practical implications
- Patients' access, rights, and expectations for clinical care

Details

Abstracts will be accepted for works not currently published or accepted for publication. All abstracts will be considered for one of two types of presentations: podium or poster. Abstracts not accepted for podium presentation will be considered for poster presentation.

Podium: Investigators selected for presentations will have 15 minutes to present their work, followed by 5 minutes of audience questions.

Poster: Accepted posters will be displayed during the conference on a provided board (approx. 4’ x 6’).

Requirements

Submission requirements:

- Identify presenting author(s)
- Complete electronic biodisclosure for the presenter and any listed authors
- Title
- For empirical studies, abstracts must contain: Background, Objectives, Results, and Conclusions/Implications for Practice
- 3,500 character limit for all content

All abstracts must be received by December 2, 2016, 11:59 pm EST.

- Authors will be notified of acceptance by Dec. 16, 2016.
- All accepted presenters will be required to register and attend the conference.
