The purpose of this Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) is to promote innovative research on music and health engagement, and health outcomes. This funding opportunity announcement (FOA) seeks to support research that examines how health information technology can be leveraged to address minority health and health disparities. Leveraging Health Information Technology to Address Minority Health and Health Disparities.

NIH Helping to End Addiction Long-term (NEXT) provides up to $10,000 in support toward a semester of travel to a conference or meeting focused on addiction and mental health research. The program supports trainees from undergraduate, graduate, and postdoctoral levels. Faculty member. Collaboration with faculty based at UC and the Cincinnati VAMC is encouraged.

The CCTST and Live Well Collaborative joined forces to offer the Design Thinking Research Award. This program supports innovative projects that apply design thinking and improvement strategies to address complex challenges and promote healthy aging. LOI due: February 1

Strategies for Time Management for Junior Faculty Members. The conference will ask participants to reflect on the impact of new technologies and their integration into their professional responsibilities. Ardythe Morrow, PhD will lead the session. During the award period, Scholars are expected to pursue their own K23 or K08 applications to NIH. They will be matched with a Program scientist to provide guidance and feedback. Please stay tuned as progress and news from NCATS is included:

Pushing the Boundaries: Scientific Innovations in Bioethics. The two-day conference will be held in on January 17-18, 2019.
